Different faith communities will come together once again on Wednesday 17 November to mark national Inter Faith week.

About this event

2021's theme: "The Shape of Things to Come?", will look at where communities and individuals find themselves now as we learn to live with Covid-19. The event aims to bring together different faith and non faith communities and to strengthen good relations.

There will be a chance to hear from those with different experiences of the last year, from Cheltenham and further afield. As well as a creative 'breakout session' where participants will come together in small groups to discuss their own experiences. The event will end with an opportunity to reflect on the evening.

Community 360, Colchester

Short description:

What is Social Prescribing? Sometimes, as well as or instead of medicine, what someone really needs might be practical help, a friend, physical exercise or good advice. Social prescribing means that this person can be referred to local organisations that provide these things.

Attending this training will provide information about social prescribing and how Faith Based Organisations can contribute to it, not just as providers but also referrers. The training will also give guidance on clarifying attendees "offers" for social prescribing schemes. This training also supports collaborative working and will be great place for attendees to promote their offers / programmes / work.

Below are some examples of the topics which will be covered:

- The context and role of Social Prescribing Champions.
- Active listening and observation skills "" Making Every Contact Count
- How to use databases and resources.

Organisation(s) holding the event:

The Nursing and Midwifery Council Employee Network

Short description:

As Part of Inter Faith Week, the Nursing and Midwifery Council held a special webinar entitled #AllInGoodFaith.

This was the first time the NMC held an event during Inter Faith Week. It was hosted by Anthony Robinson, Assistant Director at the NMC, and the panel consisted of six NMC staff members with different beliefs "" Islam, Judaism, Christianity, Sikhism, Atheism and Agnostic.

The essence of interfaith dialogue is constructive and positive interaction between people of different beliefs. It was truly fascinating to hear from each of the panellists about their experiences and the impact their belief has on their life in and out of work. From having the right prayer facilities in the office, to colleagues showing interest in each other, it was clear that showing respect and a willingness to learn is the best way for an organisation to support colleagues with different beliefs.

It was also really moving to hear the panellists' reflections about the impact the pandemic has had on their expression of belief, from the closure of places of worship, to finding comfort in the sense of community that the crisis fostered "" whether that community stemmed from a religious belief or not.

Name of activity: Outreach West London - Murder Mystery Dinner

Organisation(s) holding the event:

Outreach West London

Short description:

Outreach West London have hired 5 actors from Murder Mystery Meals Company, who will be managing the event for us. From the moment our guests arrive, they will be immersed in the murder mystery plot. The five actors mingle with the diners during pre-dinner drinks and odd events start to happen. An argument could develop, a fight may break out and, who knows, a murder may occur!!!!

Pre-dinner drinks will end with a good old fashioned murder and guests are asked to take their seats for dinner. The Inspector reveals himself and the first part of the investigation takes place after the starters. There won't be any activity whilst you are eating, which gives you a chance to chat amongst friends and colleagues. After starters the Inspector will commence the investigation. Who knows, more deaths may occur along with the odd surprise or two. There will then be another break whilst the main course is eaten and this is followed by the second half of the investigation.

This is an invite-only event, so please get in touch if you are interested in attending.

Organisation(s) holding the event:

Faith and Reflection Centre, University of Southampton

Short description:

While we remain faithful to Quaker insights we really value the wisdom of others' Faith, Philosophy and Spirituality and are willing to learn from them. We invite everyone: Faith Advisors and Students from all backgrounds - to tell us about their experience of "Light" in their Faith and their lives. We will be using a structure of "worship sharing" enabling people to share their experiences of their spirituality in a respectful environment. We won't argue, defend or promote our beliefs - we just share briefly and from the heart about our personal experience leaving a respectful silence between peoples' contributions.

We welcome contributions from these faiths/philosophies: Buddhism; Christianity; Hinduism; Humanism; Islam; Judaism; Paganism; Sikhism; Agnostic and Atheist.

How does your faith shape your daily life?

What, in your faith encourages service to others in society?

Or on anything else that you might want to share experiences

This is an opportunity for sharing and learning, on a one-to-one basis, by any means you like across a limited period of time, about what is important to us, in the context of our wider community. The process may, of course, lead to longer term conversations and new forms of practical co-operation.
